

MOUNTAIN LIVING

HOLIDAY HOMES, MOUNTAIN STYLE

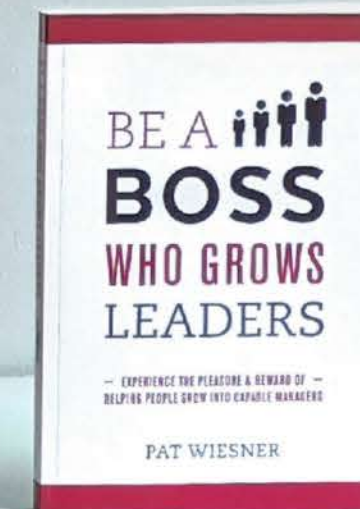

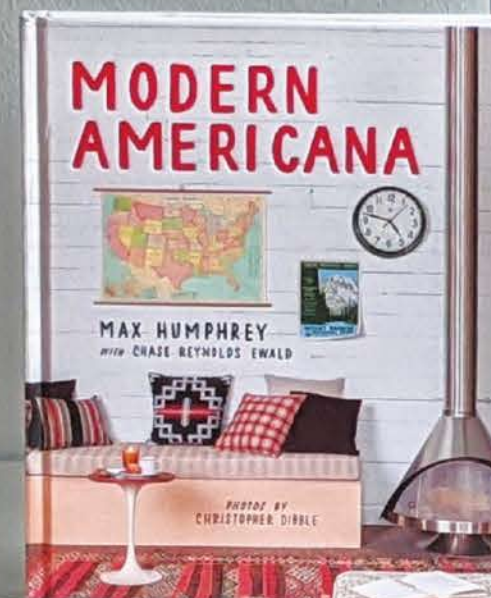

BEHIND THE TRAIL MAPS

HOME OF THE YEAR

SUSTAINABLE ASPEN LUXE

SHOPPING

BOOKED FOR THE HOLIDAYS

7 MODERN AMERICANA

In this rich compilation of interior design inspiration, celebrity designer Max Humphrey encourages readers to enhance their style with décor that they collect, buy, inherit or dumpster-dive for. Humphrey's advice works for a variety of styles from classic American country to sleek urban lofts and everything in between. Incorporating items like Pendleton blankets, camp vibes and vintage signs, Humphrey includes examples from his design and styling portfolio, along with photos and personal anecdotes. Gibbs Smith, $30.

8 CONNECTION CCY Architects

A monograph of 10 residences located throughout the Rocky Mountain West by Colorado-based CCY Architects, Connection CCY Architects explores houses diverse in scale, site and intention. The showcase of CCY projects constructed in pristine nature, dense neighborhoods and even an avalanche path beautifully illustrates the firm's design approach to creating architectural solutions rooted in natural places. The coffee table-size book contains over 300 photos, sketches, drawings, quotes and floorplans to inspire architecture fans around the world. Monacelli, $60.

9 BE A BOSS WHO GROWS LEADERS

Pat Wiesner, the retired CEO of Wiesner Publishing (now Wiesner Media, Mountain Living's parent company) penned a popular monthly magazine column for 20 years. Compiled in this volume, Wiesner's more than 100 essays about achieving meaningful business success are inspired by his experiences. More than a business book and timeless in its appeal, Be A Boss Who Grows Leaders provides inspiration on how to succeed—and help others succeed—in today's corporate world. Amazon, $17.95